GADSDEN PURCHASE

In 1853 the U.S. bought from Mexico a tract of land now forming a part of New Mexico and Arizona. It contains 45,535 sq. miles bounded on the north by the Gila R. - on East by Rio Grande & on West by Colorado R.

The U.S. gave 10 m $. The Mexicans abandoned all claims based on the Indian suit of 1848 and 1853. The treaty so displeased the Mexicans that Santa Anna who acted for them was banished.
